I think of time passing how quickly it seems to move;
And how, soon, I will leave this place.

Remembering, I see the books and buildings
The new and wonderful sights and sounds.

SCIENCE CENTER

Nowhere else but Alvarado

But mostly I
see the faces;
The smiles, the laughter, the welcoming eyes.

But in the faces,
the people, there
is wisdom, friendship,
and love.

There is a refuge in difficult times
And a mirror of happiness.
I think of time passing,
and remember this place, these things;

But especially —
the faces.
I think of them,
and all I can say is . . .

thank you.

LIFE

Registration, Orientation

While the freshmen were being juggled from building to building, the upperclassmen were looking at lines with despair and disdain. Back to school and back to studies brings tears to many eyes, but seeing old friends and making new ones is often worth the heartaches. Everyone will have a good chance to make lots of new friends, because fall registration and orientation was a success.

"I just signed this freshman up for 18 hours of chemistry," snickers Ricky Thomason.

The realization that school has started is brutally apparent as Diane Young pays for her textbooks.

Freshmen anxiously await their turn to be told that all English classes are full.

Bring Campus Back to Life

Julie Wilemon puts on her charming back-to-school smile for her last i.d. picture.

"Go on, Steve, show the camera your best side," teases Pam Renick.

"Please, Dr. Kneten, don't you think 18 hours of chemistry is a little too much for my first semester?", questions Brett Hawkins.

Sally McGary and Holly Hobson discuss the sororities on campus at the Freshman Assembly.

Student Activities, S.G.A.

Howdy Week began with the Freshman Assembly to help new students get acquainted with campus activities. Excitement continued during the week with a barbeque at the Cafeteria, the movie "Oh God", and a pizza party following the movie. A Celebrity Series with Harry Blackstone, Jr., the magician, highlighted the week's festivities.

"Let me light up your life," beams Rhonda Williams.

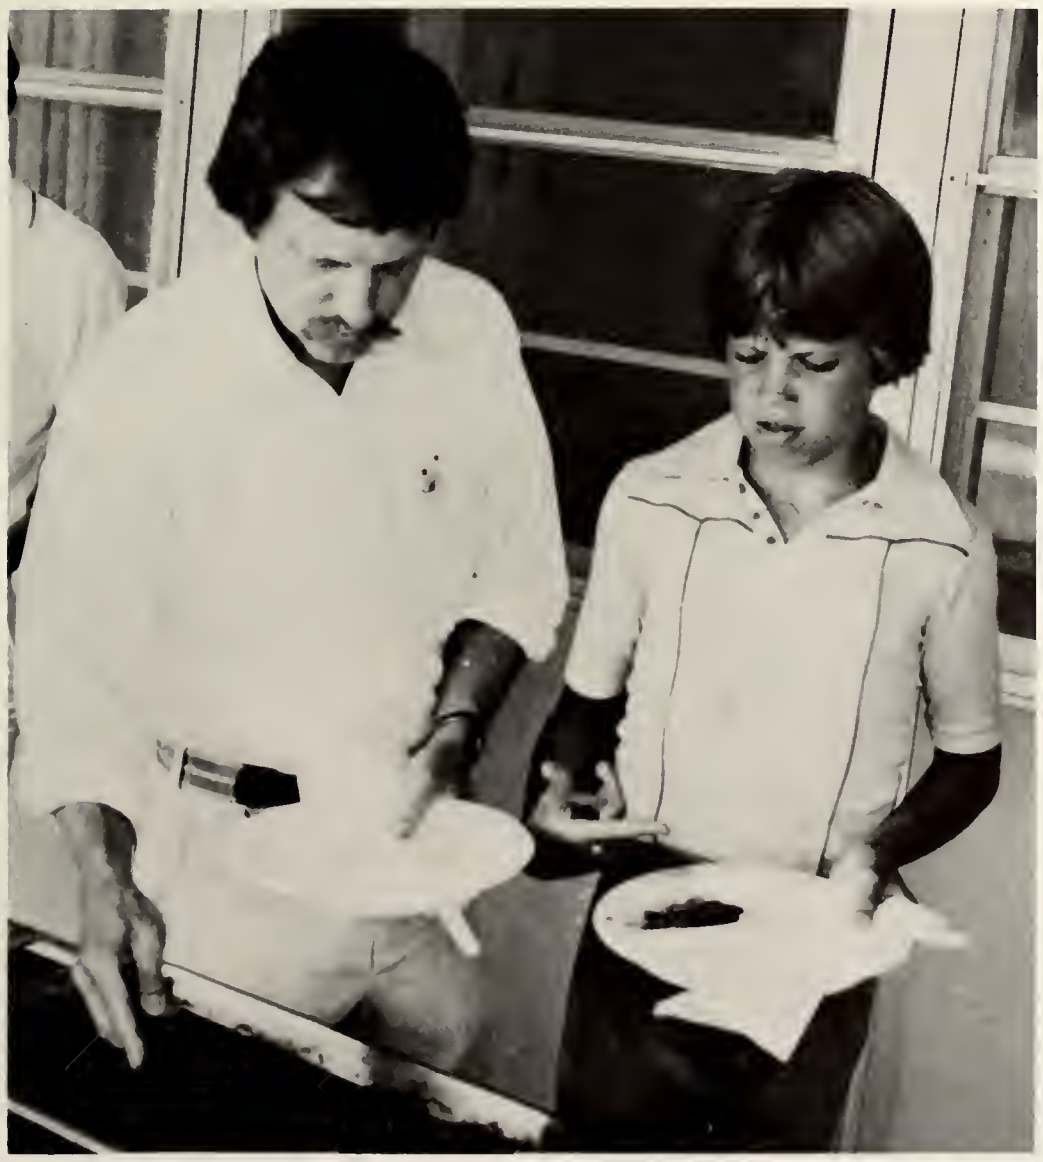
"They better leave enough food for me," threatens Cindy Lee.

Many students enjoy free barbeque sponsored by the Student Activities Office.

Sponsor Howdy Week

"We give up, SHE did it!," admits Cliff Heyde, Scarlett Ledbetter, and John O'Hara about Karin Hampton.

"We're just good friends, HONEST!," promise Karen Raines and Larry Czeszewski.



"Hey, Dad, is this stuff organic?" questions Craig Kneten.

Blackstone: Where is the pointer? Deaton: Here I am! Here I am!

Fall Brings New Faces to Social Sororities

Suzanne Nardecchia shows Alpha Xi Delta jewelry to Denisa York.

This year Fall Social Sorority Rush was held September 17-22. It was a week full of excitement for both the members of Alpha Xi Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Phi Mu, and prospective new members. The week began with an informal tea on Sunday, acquainting the girls with each sorority. Monday, the rushees attended informal parties, where sorority members presented a short skit and refreshments. On Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, formal parties were held by Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Xi Delta, and Phi Mu, respectively. This was the rushees' last chance to meet with the sororities to decide which, if any, sorority they wanted to join. The week ended when bids were handed out on Friday and the new pledges met with their future sisters.

"Let us entertain you," sing the Phi Mu's at their Informal Rush party.

Service Rush a Success

Gamma Sigma Sigma, the National Service Sorority on campus, enjoyed a successful fall rush. Their rush was held Sept. 11-15. Eight girls pledged, bringing Gamma Sigs' membership up to 28. Informal rush was held during free period on Thursday, at the SCM. The week ended with a formal party at the Arlington Community Center on Friday night.

Lori Black and Margaret Cangas entertain prospective pledges at informal rush.

"I can't believe I'm in the middle of all of this," exclaims Susan Wall.

Rushees didn't realize Gamma Sig was SO interesting.

"O.K., Pam, tell the nice girl 'hello'," pleads Janet Williams.

"I Never Sang for My Father"

"I Never Sang For My Father" was presented in celebration of Dr. Jon H. Fleming's Inauguration. The play was written by Robert Anderson and directed by Mason Johnson. The story was about a widower, Gene Garrison, with an elderly mother whom he loves, and an 80-year-old father, whom he has never loved. With the sudden death of his mother, Gene is faced with the responsibility of his unloving, ungenerous father. In the final episode, Gene tries once again to rouse in himself affection for his father and succeeds, but only for a moment.

Blackstone Baffles Students

Harry Blackstone, Jr., world's foremost magician, appeared as this year's first Celebrity Series guest. For 90 minutes Blackstone's magical wonders and quick-witted humor entertained the audience. The show included everything from disappearing parakeets to the slicing of a lady. Mr. Blackstone worked very close to the audience and continued to amaze them. The show wrapped up the fun-filled Howdy Week.

Blackstone completely stunned the audience by slicing his wife and assistant into three pieces.

A young participant from the audience wasn't so sure Mr. Blackstone could make the cube disappear, but . . .

. . . where did it go?!?

On October 26, Kermit Schafer revealed his great collection of radio and T.V. mistakes that have occurred over the years. These bloopers came from movies, radio shows, and sports broadcasts. Mr. Schafer has published 17 books, 30 best-selling records, and the movie, "Pardon My Blooper." He also gives Blooper awards every year which go to the best blunders of the past twelve months. This show of blooperology proved to be entertaining to those who attended.

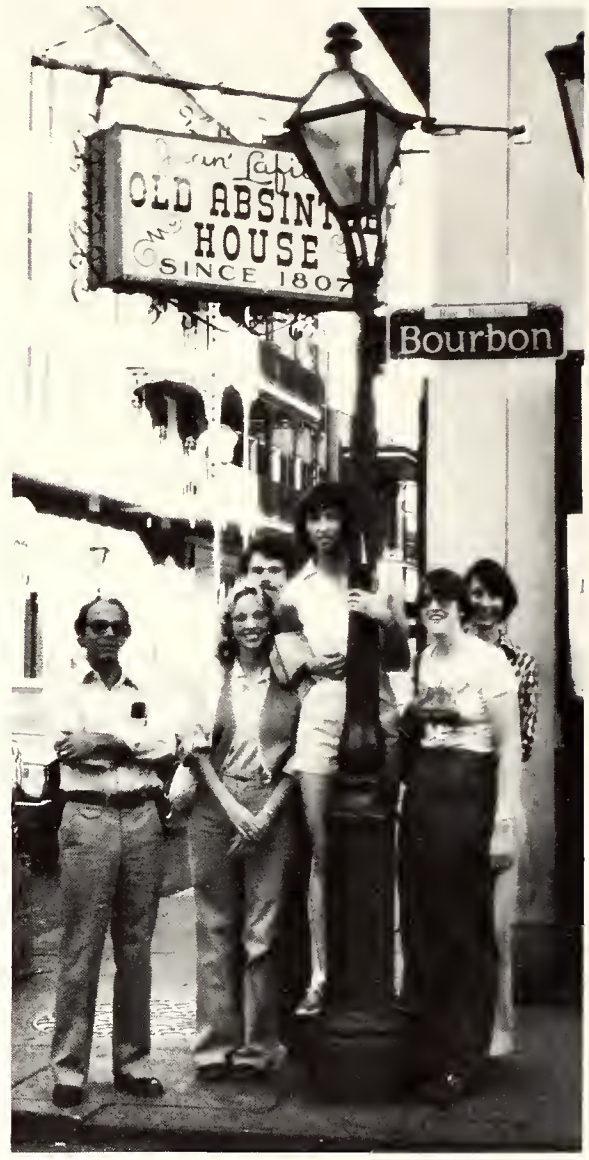
Fall Celebrities — Schafer & Howard

"Who Should Play God?" was the title of the lecture given by Ted Howard on November 14, at the Science Lecture Theater. The lecture centered on the artificial creation of life, genetic engineering and what it means to the future human race. Mr. Howard serves as director of the Peoples Business Commission, an educational group exploring democratic alternatives to the present economic system, as well as the impact of new technologies on society. Mr. Howard, along with Jeremy Rifkin, co-authored the best-seller Who Should Play God?.

Alpha Chi Visits New Orleans

In early April, Alpha Chi (national honor society) sent a delegation to New Orleans to attend the national convention. This year more members than ever before attended, either because of Alpha Chi's tremendous growth or the location. The group, including Gail Camp, Gayla Gipson, Sibyl Brinkman, Charlie Stovall, Jeanne Northcutt, Brenda Bogusch, and Mr. Luther spent much of their time learning more about the intellectual and cultural aspects of the city, but did make sufficient impact upon the other delegations present to bring next year's regional convention to the metroplex area.

Free time was spent at shopping at Jackson Square.



Members pose on everyone's favorite street.

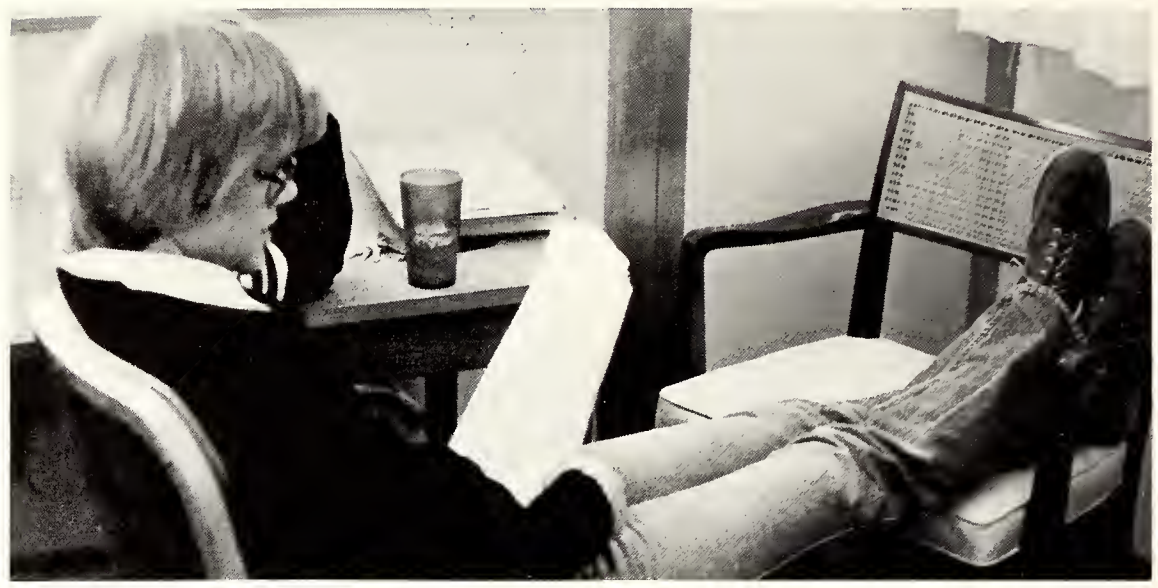
Dorm Life Provides Inter-



Renan Williams proves that it is possible to get some studying done in the dorm.

Living in the dorms is shared by both Fort Worth and out-of-town students. There are two dorms on campus, Elizabeth Means Armstrong and Stella Russell, housing over 200 students. Both dorms offer lounges, T.V. rooms, and study areas for students' use. Several parties, planned by the Dorm Council, are provided throughout the year. Dora Roberts Cafeteria, which is open to all students, provides meals for all dorm residents.

Residents enjoy the lounge facilities at Stella Russell Hall.

"Forget the etiquette!", hungrily exclaims Darrell Adkerson.

Stella president, Carlos Cuervo, proves that double talk exists in the dorm.

esting Experiences for Residents

"I'm here, so let's PARTY!", announces Monica Green.

Students converse at a dorm Pizza Party at Stella Russell.

"Oops, caught again!", says a disgusted Steve Daniels.

"I thought you were serious when you told me to stick it in my ear!", exclaims Billy Manning.

"I sure wish he would share his dinner with me," craves Patti Scheets.

Marathon Magic '79

Marathon Magic '79 was the name of Texas Wesleyan College's first MDA Danceathon. With the help of dancers and campus organizations, $5000 was raised to fight muscular dystrophy. Sigma Phi Epsilon raised the most money with a total of $1700. Ten couples began dancing at 12:00 p.m., planning to dance until 2:00 a.m. Door prizes were given by the Student Government Association to dancers, nonparticipating dancers and onlookers. Disco tapes and local bands provided the music.

"Help!" cries Josie Lambert, "I'm being chased by some nut who thinks he's the handsome prince!"

Students, along with contestants, enjoyed dancing in Marathon Magic '79.

T.W.C. Alumni were welcomed back to campus on February 16-18. The busy weekend included a pizza party, breakfast sponsored by Alpha Chi, a barbecue followed by a basketball game, and a panel discussion "Wesleyan Today". The day ended with the musical production of "Call Me Madam." During halftime of the basketball game, Sonia Torres was crowned Homecoming Queen. Sigma Phi Epsilon was announced the winner of the "Welcome Alumni" sign contest.

Due to bad weather an Open House at Dr. Jon Fleming's home, a midnight breakfast, and the final production of the musical were postponed until a later date.

"Call Me Madam"

Texas Wesleyan marked its 25th musical production with a silver curtain and the presentation of "Call Me Madam." The show centered around Sally Adams, (George Ann Carter) who was appointed ambassador of Lichtenburg. Upon arrival in the quaint little dutchy, Ms. Adams began meddling in foreign affairs. The results were both embarassing and delightful. Rayford Shelton, an alumnus of TWC, portrayed Cosmos Constantine, who was part of Sally Adams' foreign affairs. The show also starred Quentin McGown as Kenneth and Kathy Tucker as the princess.

The flamboyant show was produced by Dr. Donald Bellah and directed by Mason Johnson.

Ted Lewis and Giselle Dean dance to "It's a Lovely Day" as Rhonda Williams, Mark Wilson, Jesse Cockerell, and Jo Shannon Baldwin sing.

It's Washington's version of square dance as George Ann Carter is accompanied by Bill Tedder, Ted Lewis, Bryan Johnson, and Walter Brown.

The curtain call of "Call Me Madam" was as plush as could be expected. The tuxedoes and evening dresses were as appropriate as in any Washington gathering.

Rayford Shelton, as Cosmo Constantine, sings "Lichtenburg," about a country hindered by it s size and financial hardship.

Mrs. Carter and Quentin McGown pair up in singing "You're Just in Love." The song was one of the most crowd-appealing in the show.

Quadrangle Initiates Men,

1978-79 was a year of growth and progress for Quadrangle. Traditionally a senior women's honor society, Quadrangle went co-ed in the fall by initiating 13 outstanding senior men. In order to qualify for this organization, seniors must have at least a 3-point scholastic gradepoint average and involvement in at least 2 campus organizations. Each year the new initiates are tapped in at the spring Quadrangle banquet. Also, campus organizations are given the opportunity to summarize their activities during the year and present awards.

S.G.A. Has

The 1978-1979 academic year was one of the best for the Student Government Association. The S.G.A. placed special emphasis on school spirit this year, beginning with a successful Howdy Week party, the sponsorship of a Bus Trip to see the Rams play in Georgetown, the initiating of our first Wesleyan "Soccer Day" pep rally, as well as promoting Homecoming activities to students. In the area of student services, the S.G.A. sponsored a Tutoring Program, the distribution of school directories, and a discount program of metroplex businesses. The executive officers were proud of the fact that their efforts tripled the number of businesses participating in our program. A book swap program was offered as an alternative to students wishing to sell their books at their own price. Students were encouraged to write to the "Voice Box." The SGA co-sponsored a Leadership Seminar with Student Activities. The S.G.A. sponsors recruiting, "Educator of the Year" elections, and plans to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy.

Bands Provide Entertainment

The Wind Ensemble performed under the direction of Mr. Stephen Ehrich.

The TWC Lab Band performed at many functions.

Fall Tour '78 —

In the fall of '78, the Wesleyan Wind Ensemble journeyed to Arkansas, Iowa, and Missouri. They played a concert each night. On the road in between, spade and chess tournaments were held on the bus.

This year the band, or the different divisions, played at basketball games, Commencement, the musical "Call Me Madam", and the two area high schools.

The band itself consists of one player to each part. This means that each person must perform to the top of his ability and be able to produce a full rich sound — and that has been accomplished this year.

These band members participate in one of the many spade tournaments on the long bus trip.

Wind Ensemble members anxiously await to begin their journey to Arkansas, Iowa, and Missouri.

Wesleyan Spirit Is Alive and Kicking

T.W.C. cheerleaders show off their new mascot.

Willie the Ram, the fleecy, bighorned Rambouillet from West Texas, is Wesleyan's first live mascot in twenty years. He made his debut last fall at Ram basketball games and rode in the Stock Show Parade in downtown Fort Worth last winter. Donated by Sterling City, Texas, sheepman Clinton Hodges, who won several top ribbons for his Rambouillets at the 1979 Fort Worth Stock Show, Willie the Ram lives like royalty in his own blue and gold trailer. Donated by the Ram Club, the trailer is pulled by a new truck which was donated by Jack Williams Chevrolet. Willie was chosen for his impressive set of curled horns — a Rambouillet trademark. He's cared for in his special quarters on campus by a spirit organization of Wesleyan students who call themselves "The Ramrods." It's wonderful to have you, Willie!

The Ram Cheerleaders, made up of six girls, are the core of T.W.C. spirit. It is their job to lead cheers and encourage crowd participation. Monica Green, head cheerleader, served her third year as cheerleader. Sonia Torres served her second year. Billie Holland, Kathy Bates, Tara Hutchison, and Danette Wallace all served their first year on the squad.

Rams Tie for TAC First

The Ram Baseball Team, under the direction of Coach Frank Fultz, concluded the fall campaign by traveling to Oklahoma and taking two of three games from the NCAA Cowboys. The Wesleyans took 6-2 and 8-1 wins. In the spring the Rams played every team in the Southwest Conference except Texas A&M and Arkansas. They played other NCAA teams such as University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Pan American, Lamar University, and Louisiana Tech, also the NAIA national champion, Emporia State. The Rams had a 7-1 record in the Texas Athletic Conference, as well as a tie for first place.

Volley Ballers Climb

The Ram volleyball team compiled an impressive season record and fulfilled many long term goals this season. Ending the season with a 26-21 win-loss record, we see that the Rams were tough to beat. Maturity and experience was certainly an advantage to the team this year. Six returning players and acquiring three new ones, the Rams shocked many opponents.

In tournament play, the Rams placed third in the Southwestern Tournament, and fourth in the Mary Hardin-Baylor Tournament. Susan Thompson was named to the All-Star team in both of the tournaments.

However, the Rams primary goal was to place in the State Tournament, a goal which was achieved. Seeded seventh in state the Rams upset the tournament by placing third. This, of course, advanced the team to the Regional Tournament, which was hosted by T.W.C. The team did quite well in the tournament, losing only to Texas Lutheran, who later won regionals and advanced to nationals. The Rams ended the season as one of the top eight teams in the region.

Women Finish 14 in Nation

The Women's Basketball Team achieved a first for Wesleyan this year. They participated in the national finals and finished fourteenth in the nation for small colleges. Their overall record for the year was 32-5, with the Junior Varsity 1-1. They won the TAIAW Bi-Zone Championship, the TAIAW state small college championship, and placed second in the SWAIAW. Leading scorer was Bernadine Neyland, who averaged 23 points per game with 897 for the year. Leading rebounder was Carolyn Johnson with an average of nine rebounds a game. Cyndra Anderson led in assists. Cyndra was co-captain with Diana Bohn and was named to the All-Tourney Team at the state tournament, along with Tracy Wiedeman, and was named Honorable Mention All-American Small Colleges. The team won two invitational tournaments and placed second in the Tarleton Invitational.

Women Softballers in Top 8

The Women's Softball Team racked up a 24-19 game total. They were in the Top 8 Region, with big wins over Baylor and UTA, and third in the Southwestern Tournament in Georgetown. Leading hitters were Susan Thompson, team captain, and Kathy Huey and Melinda Ellis. Other leading hitters were Stephanie Clemmer, Carolyn Campbell, and Deidra Bennett. Pitchers were Bennett and Clemmer. Setters were Rita Dodd and Clemmer, with outstanding defensive play. Defensive players were Sherry Latta, Tammy Miller, and Jackie Taylor. Front row specialist was Janet Williamson. First and second baseman was Dodd. Shortstop was Diana Bohn. Third baseman was Diana Moore. Catcher was Debbie Boraas. Outfielders were Thompson, Duringa Ringer, Bernadine Neyland, and Tracy Wiedeman.

District 8 NAIA Golf Champions

The Ram golfers won the District 8 title, defeating Houston's St. Thomas. This gained them the opportunity to participate in the NAIA national finals in Greensboro, N. Carolina in June. This marks the twenty-fifth time in the last twenty-eight years that the Rams have played in the national finals. Playing at the finals were Brad Higgins, Scott Fitzgerald, Randy Jacobs, Gary Dennis (2nd medalist at District 8 Tournament) and Jeff Smith. The Ram golfers won the Eastern New Mexico Invitational Tournament, with Senior Captain Brad Higgins as medalist, and also won the Trinity Invitational. A fifth place finish at the Wichita State Invitational was an accomplishment for the Rams, according to Coach O. D. Bounds, because of the caliber of the Big Eight and Missouri Valley Conference teams attending.

Coach O. D. Bounds completes 33 years as golf coach at Wesleyan. He is in the NAIA Hall of Fame and the Wesleyan Hall of Fame. He was named NAIA Golf Coach of the Year for 1979.

Tennis Teams Rate 'Best Ever'

The Texas Wesleyan Tennis Teams were the best in Wesleyan history. The women were 18 and 9 in dual matches and finished third in Region 4. They are being considered for an at-large berth to the Nationals. The men were 20 and 11 and won the NAIA District 8 Tournament, which qualified them for the second straight year to go to the Nationals in Kansas City. Norm Smith and Karen Castle won the Golden Racquet Awards, and Peter Wall and Chris Warmann won the 3D Awards. Connie Zepeda won the Flight One Tournament at the Regionals.

The fledgling soccer team jumped from their nests this year to battle with college teams in the area.

The team showed strength in individual positions, but lacked the needed depth in the squad and finished less than what was hoped for the young team.

To raise the enthusiasm of soccer, a new sport to the college, the S.G.A. sponsored a faculty-team scrimmage that was played during the free period for all the campus. Experience proved superior as the soccer team danced in and around the faculty to win the scrimmage 2-1.

With a season under their belt coach, Kan Luther looks forward to a more productive '79 year.

In Memoriam . . .

When someone you love leaves,

Not just for a day or a month,

but forever,

Their voices no longer sounds,

Their eyes no more to light the shadow in your heart,

There are tears;

And there is a vacancy in your soul.

When someone leaves,

Forever,

We send them off with a bouquet of tears,

And, every evening,

Set a candle in the window of that vacant room

In our hearts.

TXWECO

Well, here it is, the paragraph you have all been waiting for. The traditional philosophical summation of the year's events by the yearbook editors, who as you all know, have no more insight than anyone else. This year, Texas Wesleyan has gone through many changes and so have we. With only one staff member returning, 1978-79 was indeed a year for rebuilding the TXWECO. This book is the product of many long hours of hard work, but we think it was worth it (hope you do, too).

Brenda & Joy

It is really impossible to list all the people who put time and effort into this book, but we would like to give special recognition and thanks to the following people for their help and support.

Mrs. Joann Langston
Rambler
David Yates
David Cullum
Bill Greene
Bill Stowe
Paul Wynne

And also we would like to thank Time, Inc., Cosmopolitan, and Us for the permission to use their logos.
